KUROPATKIN ON THE MOVE

Reported He Has Abandoned Mukden

AND HAS GONE TO TICHING

Advices Received from Port Arthur State That Towns People Think That Time Has Come for Surrender.

London, Oct. 1.—A Rome despatch says that advices received there from Liao Yang state that General Kuropatkin has abandoned Mukden and transferred his headquarters to Tieling.

STOESSEL WAS MAD

Because Townspeople of Port Arthur Suggested Surrender.

Rome, Oct. 1.—A Tim Tsin telegram says that a junk which arrived there from Port Arthur reports that the garrison is in the most serious straits. They are suffering from the lack of the common necessities of life. The most serious factor is the lessening of the water supply.

The opinion is gathering among the townspeople that the time has come when surrender could be made without loss of honor. This was suggested to General Stoessel who became frantic at the idea. He raved like a madman and declared he would continue fighting as long as one grain of powder remains.

WOULD BE FOOL-HARDY.

For General Kuropatkin to Take Initiative, as Reported.

London, Oct. 1.—A telegram received from the seat of war in the Far East this morning indicated that both sides are still stationary and that affairs are still in what might be termed an active state of preparation. Several despatches received in Rome and St. Petersburg state that the Japanese have begun an advance already along their lines, but more authentic despatches show that these telegrams are just exaggerated accounts of reconnaissance.

A despatch from Mukden this morning intimates that General Kuropatkin is about to assume initiative in battle. In military and official circles such a move is thought to be fool-hardy and the despatch is thought untrue, unless political circles in the Russian capital are again trying to direct the campaign. In such a case it is believed that the Russian armies are certain to suffer another setback.

SLIGHTLY IMPROVED.

But Postmaster General Payne Not Out of Danger.

Washington, Oct. 1.—Postmaster General Payne's condition this morning is slightly better than at any time yesterday. He rested well during the night. He is not, however, out of danger.

President Roosevelt called at the Payne apartments at 10 o'clock this morning. On leaving he told the newspaper men that he felt much encouraged over the favorable reports of the Postmaster General's condition.

DEPEW IS HOPEFUL.

Says Roosevelt Will Most Certainly Be Elected.

Poughkeepsie, N. Y., Sept. 30.—In addressing a large audience at a Republican rally in the opera house here tonight, Senator Depew declared the election of President Roosevelt was assured beyond a shadow of doubt.

"I have been campaigning in New York State for the past forty years," he said, "and never before have I seen a time when prospects for the success of a Republican national ticket seemed so bright as this year."

WILL GET FIRST VOTERS.

Ex-Sen. Thurston Says They Admire Roosevelt.

New York, Sept. 30.—Former Senator John M. Thurston of Nebraska returned to this city today after spending two and a half weeks in New York State speaking for the Republican ticket. He says there has been no lack of enthusiasm and the people turned out in large numbers to the meetings. He says that the Republicans will make large gains among the first voters as they seem to admire Roosevelt.

LAWYERS HAD SQUABBLE.

Burlington Attorneys in the $50,000 Salary Suit.

Burlington, Oct. 1.—The trial of the case of E. J. White vs. the Lumiere North American company, was completed yesterday afternoon so far as the plaintiff is concerned. Whether it proceeds any further depends upon the decision of Judge Powers upon the motion made by the attorneys for the Lumiere company for a verdict for the defendant.

The motion for a verdict was not the only interesting thing in the trial yesterday. Mr. White, the plaintiff, was on the stand during the day. While the defendant's attorneys were questioning him the matter of an account presented by Attorney Huntress came up. While this was being considered Attorney Burnap inquired of Mr. White:

"Why did you go to Boston, Mr. White, when there were so many eminent counsel in Burlington?"

"I did not know you at that time, Mr. Burnap," replied Mr. White.

The monotony of the case was also relieved by a brief sparring match between Mr. Burnap, one of the attorneys for the defendant, and Mr. Bullard, Mr. Burnap insisted that Mr. White answer the questions, saying:

"He has wiggled and squirmed throughout the trial."

These words were hardly uttered before Mr. Bullard was on his feet demanding an exception.

Burnap has filled this case with bombast from beginning to end, he said.

Judge Powers then took a hand in the matter and advised the attorneys to follow the example of their clients, who he said had been perfect gentlemen from the beginning. He also told the jurors that they must not consider any breach of legal etiquette.

The plaintiff rested in the afternoon upon the completion of Mr. White's testimony. At that time Mr. L. Powell, attorney for the defendant, moved for a verdict for the defendant. This question was argued at length and it was taken under consideration by Judge Powers.

"THE WIND SHE BLOW."

Lake Champlain Hasn't Seen Such a Gale in a Long Time.

Burlington, Oct. 1.—The gale on Lake Champlain yesterday in which the rail boat Valcour was beached, was by far the worst seen in years.

The Valcour was not the only small craft that experienced the heavy sea, although the other boat did not fare so badly, as she was just leaving the slip near the Transportation company's office. The small boat Pastime, owned by the government, which is used in connection with repairs at the breakwater, was just starting from the slip at the south of the Transportation company's dock, having in tow a shooner loaded with stone for the breakwater, when the gale came up. She was thrown violently against the front of the dock, but did not receive any injury. The schooner was dropped off near the dock and allowed to drift back into the slip, while the Pastime continued on to the breakwater. It was thought that a small boat just outside the breakwater was in trouble but she escaped without injury. All boats that were anchored at the Transportation company's dock kept to their moorings until after the gale subsided. The boat near the breakwater commenced blowing her whistle, but it was a sign to give aid to the Pastime if she was in danger.

At the Central dock all the small craft that was anchored outside the slips were hurriedly got under cover. The boat house owned and operated by Captain Archambault came very near tearing away from its moorings several times during the morning. The raft, attached to the east side of the boat house, broke away from where it was tied and crashed into a small yacht that was inched near the dock with terrific force, breaking the sides of the boat in several places.

SHOT IN THE FACE.

Leo Ferris of Essex Junction Not Seriously Hurt, However.

Essex Junction, Oct. 1.—Leo Ferris, foreman of the gang of Italian hucksters which has been employed in the yard of the Baxter Bros. cannery factory had a narrow escape from a fatal accident yesterday afternoon. He and several men from the yard went hunting and one of their number, a young boy, was carrying a gun, evidently somewhat carelessly. Ferris had reminded the boy several times to be more careful. Near a corn field on Hugh Teachout's farm, the gun was discharged in the direction of Mr. Ferris, who was about four feet away, the main part of the charge passing just to the right of his face. Some of the shot, however, entered his face, passing through the cheek and the nose; also one or two just above the chin. Apparently Mr. Ferris was holding his hand to his face for some of the shot passed through the forefinger of his right hand. Mr. Ferris returned to this village and had the wounds dressed at a doctor's office and is now at his room at the home of Mrs. Hannah Allen. No serious results are expected to follow.

EAST WARREN BOY HURT.

Perley Fuller Mangled On An Ensilage Cutter.

Burlington, Oct. 1.—Perley Fuller of East Warren was brought to the Mary Fletcher hospital for treatment yesterday, having been badly injured in an ensilage cutter. He is 20 years of age. While trying to oil an ensilage cutter which was in motion, his clothing caught on a set screw and the flesh on his abdomen and his lower body was torn off. The Warren physician was called and Montpelier doctors were sent for, but as they could not be had the young man was etherized and taken to Burlington.

PARDON IS SOUGHT.

Reported That Burlington Man Was Imprisoned on Perjured Testimony.

Burlington, Oct. 1.—A petition will be sent to Gov. McCullough soon asking for the pardon of Patrick Lucia, now serving a sentence of not less than three or more than three and a half years at the state's prison at Windsor for an alleged criminal assault on Catherine Myers.

Three reasons are given for the pardon. One is that Lucia has always borne a good reputation. Another is that the girl has declared she swore falsely against him because her father compelled her to do so, and the other is that her record since then has shown that she was of bad character.

M. S. Vilas, who was Lucia's attorney, obtained the girl's sworn statement to that effect.

The petition for Lucia's pardon is signed by Sheriff Horton and his deputies by Ex-Sheriff Reeves; by Chief of Police Russell and the city policemen, by the members of the board of aldermen, and by many of the influential citizens of Burlington, indicating a healthy sentiment in favor of Lucia.

P., the noted Irish leader, and Mrs. Redmond stopped here yesterday afternoon to inspect the statue of Charles Stewart Parnell, which Augustus St. Julien, the sculptor, is working on at his studio across the river. The statue, with the ordonnance above, will be about 60 feet high and will not be completed for some months yet. It will be erected in the city of Dublin and will undoubtedly be the finest in that city if not in all Europe.
